POST MODERN GROUP
DELIVERING GLOBAL TECHNOLOGY & ENTERTAINMENT

Utilizing the exceptional talents of many knowledgeable and experienced people, the Post Modern Group has become one of the most trusted companies in the passenger entertainment industry today.

From strategy and creative development to content acquisition, licensing, production, post production, delivery and technical supervision, we're continually developing the strengths required to be a true leader in the delivery of global passenger entertainment.

Being a leader requires a clear understanding of your requirements. Then, using the considerable experience of our global network, the best people and resources are assigned to produce a focused and seamless solution, ensuring at every step that your needs are met on time, on budget and on target.

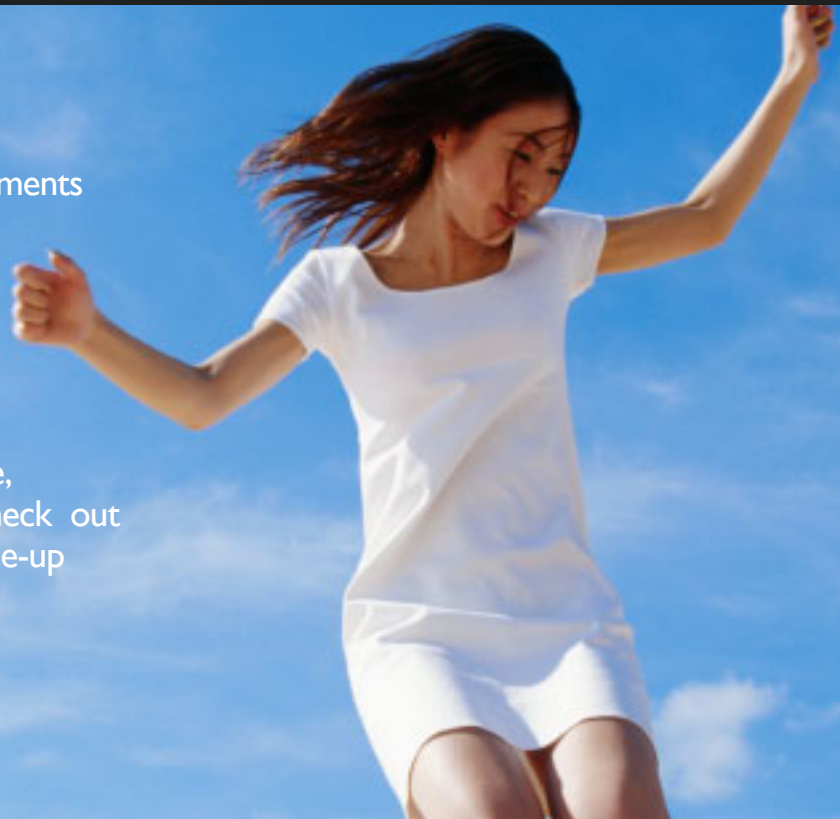

Since 1993 this dedication to clients has resulted in the development of business relationships that not only deal promptly with day to day requests but provide for a trusted partnership that helps both companies anticipate and prepare for new delivery systems and technological challenges as they evolve.

Post Modern is also a highly trusted partner of major Hollywood studios and distributors, having earned their respect and confidence for content licensing, encoding and delivery. For our customers around the world, it means streamlined delivery of first run titles backed by a technical service that's second to none.

We invite you to learn more about us, our commitment to our clients and an exciting industry that's delivering innovative technology and an improved passenger experience to more and more people every day.

One of the most exciting elements of a great travel experience is discovering the range of entertainment available.

No matter
how comfortable they may be,
most passengers can't wait to check out
the entertainment line-up and turn up the volume.

amp International
Premier Entertainment Services

At AMP International, we know the passenger experience should be as seamless as possible with an entertaining mix of first run movies, top rated television programs, music and games, selected from the nearly endless list of today's entertainment options.

But one of the most important strengths that sets us apart is our ability to consistently provide the highest level of service and performance quality for each of our clients regardless of their needs or demands.

That's why we've built an international team of experienced professionals who understand not only how to acquire and deliver top quality programming with first rate technical standards, but also the importance of service that ensures every entertainment experience you offer to your passengers remains flawless, no matter when or where they travel.

IMAGES IN MOTION

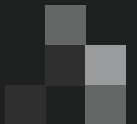

WHERE EAST MEETS WEST

Since 1997 Singapore based Images In Motion has focused on providing world class in-flight entertainment to Asian airlines and today is the leading supplier of specialized services for Chinese airlines with offices in Singapore, Beijing and Hong Kong. The company was acquired by the Post Modern Group in 2010 and now forms part of its worldwide network.

Images In Motion entered the mainland Chinese market in 2000, establishing industry standards of practice for licensing and approval of Hollywood content.

Today their state of the art Beijing and Singapore digital encoding facilities ensure that customers enjoy greatly reduced lead times and superior quality for local content. Images In Motion is also a major producer of multicultural audio programs and technical services for airlines around the globe.
